CANDIDATES FOR DEGREES

Honorary Degree of Doctor of Laws

June 1, 1964

KENNETH WILFORD COPELAND

Distinguished alumnus of Southern Methodist University; Arkansas son of the parsonage, preacher, pastor, writer for laymen, and Bishop of the Methodist Church in Nebraska; eloquent in the pulpit and constructive in administration, his work counts positively for the cause that he untiringly serves.

Presented by Professor Douglas Ewing Jackson

PAUL VERNON GALLOWAY

Former student of today's Perkins School of Theology and a long-time member of the Trustee Committee for that school; pastor of many churches in his native state of Arkansas and in Oklahoma; Bishop of the Methodist Church in the San Antonio-Northwest Texas Area; warm and thoughtful pastor, ardent preacher and energetic administrator, he is devoted to the evangelical vitality and theological competence of the Methodist Church.

Presented by Professor John W. Deschner

WILLIAM BAYARD HEROY

Distinguished geologist, statesman of the scientific community at large, he has long served his profession and his nation through the formulation of sound policies for the development and conservation of those two most important natural resources: water and the fossil fuels.

Presented by Professor Claude Carroll Albritton, Jr.

JOHN ERIK JONSSON

Educational statesman whose philanthropy and leadership have benefited institutions of learning and research over this nation; dedicated civic leader of the city he now serves as mayor; brilliant and pioneering industrial leader of international reputation; his humane values and integrity have brought wisdom to the many problems of society, business, and education in an age of explosive technological growth.

Presented by Professor Jesse E. Hobson

WILLIAM KENNETH POPE

Twice a distinguished alumnus of Southern Methodist University in college and in seminary; a preacher in his native state of Missouri but primarily in Texas for over thirty years and now Bishop of the Methodist Church in Arkansas; outstanding pastor of one of Methodism's largest churches when elected to the episcopacy, he continues his high level of service to the Church.

Presented by Professor Lewis Howard Grimes

OLIVER EUGENE SLATER

A distinguished alumnus both of college and of seminary at Southern Methodist University; Bishop of the Methodist Church in Kansas after serving pastorates in Texas; combining gentleness with exceptional competence, he serves his area as chief pastor and his alma mater as able proponent of the vital importance of graduate study in a Church-related university.

Presented by Professor Joseph Dillard Quillian, Jr.

JOSEPH ROYALL SMILEY

Distinguished alumnus of Southern Methodist University; specialist in the literature of the Enlightenment; former president of Texas Western University and of the University of Texas and now president of the University of Colorado; he has combined with conspicuous success the three essentials of university life: teaching, productive scholarship, and administration.

Presented by Professor Gilbert John Jordan
